

Sky Pirates of Neo Terra reaches one million Facebook fans Studio aims to further boost franchise through revamp of popular online game

Vancouver, BC – January 20, 2014 – Fathom Interactive hits another major milestone as it celebrates over one million Facebook page Likes for its flagship IP Sky Pirates of Neo Terra (facebook.com/skypiratesneo). Within less than a year of launching the fan-favorite online multiplayer game Sky Pirates Racing, the page’s reach has skyrocketed to nearly three million Facebook users, and it continues to bring exponential growth to its fan community by drawing in thousands of new Likes per day.

“The response to the Sky Pirates brand has been amazing so far, and we still have a lot in store for the fans,” said president and creative director Sean Megaw. “Today, we’re thrilled to announce the upcoming launch of Sky Pirates Racing 2 on Facebook, a new and hugely improved version of Sky Pirates Racing.”

Launching in Q2 of this year, Sky Pirates Racing 2 will have additional content, challenging new race modes, a single-player mode, an enhanced user interface, improved graphics, and even more customization options to offer its players. There’s certainly no slowing down for the IP, as the studio continues developing even more installments to the franchise.

Sky Pirates of Neo Terra is a thrilling tale of courage, friendship and adventure, set in a magical world full of hidden dangers. An unruly pack of Glidewing pilots known as the Sky Pirates take to the skies and threaten the peace of Neo Terra, but young heroes Billy, Suma and Ricket soon find out that the real danger is far more terrifying. The evil Witch Queen, whom the Sky Pirates are sworn to serve, is amassing a dark army, and will stop at nothing to gain control over all the land.

The Sky Pirates of Neo Terra franchise offers a plethora of rich content and experiences to its fans, all showcasing the stunning artwork of comic and pop surrealism artist Camilla d’Errico (www.camilladerrico.com), which can also be found in the Sky Pirates webcomics and graphic novel. For more information, visit www.skypiratesneo.com.

About Fathom Interactive

Fathom Interactive is an independent game studio with a growing team of driven, talented and experienced developers led by an exceptional group of industry veterans. Based in Vancouver, BC, the studio covers everything from concept creation and design to art and production for numerous platforms including gaming, print, film, and television. For more information, visit www.fathominteractive.com.